The eligible investment countries for the Fund include any country in Europe. The Fund may also invest in contingent convertible bonds which will not exceed 5% of the net assets of the Fund. The Fund may use forward contracts for hedging and/or efficient portfolio management purposes. The Fund may enter into securities lending transactions by lending securities of its portfolio to brokers, dealers and other institutions that provide cash in USD, EUR or JPY currency or US Treasury securities as collateral in an amount at least equal to the value of the securities loaned. No more than 15% of the net assets of the Fund will be used for lending securities. The level of exposure to securities lending is generally expected to be less than 5% of the net assets of the Fund. The Management Company is Capital International Management Company Sàrl who is responsible for the investment management, the administration and the implementation of the Fund's distribution and marketing functions as prescribed by the relevant Luxembourg law. The Singapore Representative is Capital Group Investment Management Pte. Ltd. The Investment Adviser is Capital Research and Management Company. The Depository and Custodian is J.P. KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? The value of the product and its dividends or coupons may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:	Refer to paragraph 10 of the Singapore Prospectus for more information on risks of the product.
Market and Credit Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You are exposed to market risks as the Fund invests primarily in equities. The prices of Equity securities may decline in response to certain events, including but not limited to those directly affecting the companies whose securities are owned by the relevant Fund; conditions affecting the general economy; overall market changes; local, regional or global political, social or economic instability; and currency fluctuations.
Liquidity Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Fund is not listed and you can redeem the Shares only on each Valuation Date. There is no secondary market for the Fund. Redemption requests may be made to the Management Company through the transfer agent or appointed distributors in Singapore.
Product-Specific Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You are exposed to contingent convertible bonds risks. The Fund may invest in contingent convertible bonds. Under the terms of a contingent convertible bond, certain triggering events, including events under the control of the management of the contingent convertible bond's issuer, could cause the permanent write-down to zero of principal investment and/or accrued interest, or a conversion to equity. Other risks include the risk of coupon cancellation as coupon payments for some contingent convertible bonds are entirely discretionary and may be cancelled by the issuer at any point for any reason and for any length of time, and liquidity risk as finding a ready buyer for contingent convertible bonds may be difficult and the Fund may have to accept a significant discount to the expected value of the bond in order to sell it.

- You are exposed to derivatives risks.

Derivatives may expose the Fund to certain additional risks relative to traditional securities such as credit risks of the counterparty, imperfect correlation between derivatives prices of related assets, rates or indices, potential loss of more money than the actual cost of the investment, potential for leverage, increased volatility and reduced liquidity and risk of mispricing or improper valuation.

- You are exposed to European emerging markets risks.

Investing in Emerging Markets may involve risks in addition to and greater than those generally associated with investing in the securities markets of developed countries. Emerging Markets may have less developed legal and accounting systems than those in developed countries. The governments of these countries may be less stable and more likely to impose capital controls, nationalize a company or industry, place restrictions on foreign ownership and on withdrawing sale proceeds of securities from the country, and/or impose punitive taxes that could adversely affect the prices of securities. In addition, the economies of these countries may be dependent on relatively few industries that are more susceptible to local and global changes. Securities markets in these countries can also be relatively small and have substantially lower trading volumes. As a result, securities issued in these countries may be more volatile and less liquid, and may be more difficult to value, than securities issued in countries with more developed economies and/or markets. Additionally, there may be increased settlement risks for transactions in local securities.
